Derco Aerospace provides support to Navy program

AUGUST 28, 2006, MILWAUKEE — Derco Aerospace, Inc. was recently awarded a subcontract from Maritime Helicopter Support Company (MHSCo), a joint venture of Lockheed Martin and Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation, to manage a portion of the United States Navy's H-60 Performance Based Logistics (PBL) program. Derco's subcontract will include vendor performance and quality management, planning, forecasting, and managing of the spares and repairs needed to support the U.S. Navy H-60 fleet.

"Derco Aerospace is pleased to once again provide aircraft sustainment support to the U.S. Navy and to be part of the team lead by MHSCo," said Bill Ochsner, President of Derco Aerospace. "The MHSCo Program further establishes Derco's ability to apply its proven processes and procedures in support of multiple aircraft programs as the company continues its transformation to a full-service, full-platform logistics and solutions provider."
